

ASIAN BORREL CLUB (ABC) 2021 - 2022

ABC

POLICY PLAN

AMSTERDAM

FOREWORD

Dear reader,

We hereby present you the policy plan of the student association Asian Borrel Club (ABC) in Amsterdam. Based on this policy plan, the board will concretize its goals for the next three years. This student association will mainly function in Amsterdam and focus on students in Amsterdam.

At the beginning of 2020, Daniël Li and Christine Li were looking for opportunities in Amsterdam to meet students who share an interest in Asian culture. The arrival of Covid-19 in March 2020 made this wish practically unachievable and given the lack of social activities and an active student association in Amsterdam in the context of Asian culture, Daniël Li and Christine Li decided to fill this gap by coming up with idea to start an association. To that end, ABC was conceived and realized in mid-2020 by Daniel Li, Christine Li, Sofia Chong, Lian Su, Jacky Cheng, Ryan Zhang, Kenneth Chin, and Kevin Liu. ABC is a cultural student association located in Amsterdam and since the student association is based in Amsterdam, the Dutch culture should be embraced equally; hence the addition of “Borrel” in the name. ABC strives to connect students who express an interest in Asian culture and to that end wants to organize events that embody a light, cozy and warm atmosphere.

The policy plan will function as a guideline for each board, so that they always take the bigger picture into account when making decisions. This is the second variant of the policy plan and will certainly show inconsistencies over time. Anticipating on this and therefore changing the policy plan is effectuated under the General Assembly of the Members. Because the current board is the second board of the association, several formats and standard processes will still have to be formed and made concrete. Mistakes will undoubtedly be made during the organization of activities, which will be reflected and discussed on and can derived from the minutes. At the end of the board year, a reflective final report will be formulated with whether the goals have been achieved, what went well or badly and why, what could be improved and in what way, whether the standard processes work optimally and efficiently and finally how the financial health is holding up.

The academic year 2021/2022 will have thirty-two events, provided that COVID-19 measurements allow it. The physical sport events in the academic year 2020/2021 was decisive for us to further develop this entire project; we found that we contributed to the social satisfaction of the visitors; there was spirit, momentum and commitment among them.

The second board of the Amsterdam student association Asian Borrel Club consists of:

Daniël Li	Chairman	Internal committee
Kevin Liu	Treasurer
Matthijs Fok	Secretary
Christine Li	General board member	Events committee
Yenly He	General board member	Marketing committee
Sofia Chong	General board member	Introduction committee
Jacky Cheng	General board member	External affairs committee
Ryan Zhang	General board member	IT committee

An exciting and turbulent year awaits us and as the second board we will do our utmost best to achieve the objectives - to ensure that ABC will not only enjoy good growth, but also be a real asset to Amsterdam student life where students can be themselves.

Sincerely,

The second board (21/22) Asian Borrel Club

H1 VISION, MISSION AND GOALS

ABC envisions to become the embodiment of Dutch Asian "gezelligheid" by creating memorable experiences for everyone and to that end has the mission to set up an open and cozy association where students and young professionals – from or around Amsterdam – have the opportunity to meet each other and can enjoy the Dutch Asian "gezelligheid". To achieve this, a set of goals has been drawn up:

1. Bringing people together and creating network opportunities for students and young professionals.
2. Permanently establishing ABC in Amsterdam.
3. Creating a light-hearted, accessible and informal association culture with adequate management.
4. Bridging the gap between students from Asia and Amsterdam

1.1 BRINGING PEOPLE TOGETHER AND CREATING NETWORK OPPORTUNITIES

One of the options that is currently lacking in Amsterdam student life is being able to join an active culturally Asian-oriented student association. Bringing together people with similar commonalities provides them with a new opportunity where they can meet new people and eventually make new friends. At the time of Covid-19, it was a difficult period for young people to experience social activities, especially for first-year students. With Covid-19 leaving the course, ABC is trying to set up physical events where students, who want to, can experience some form of social interaction. The approach of these physical events is that members get to know each other quickly and can spontaneously have a nice conversation, such as during a drink. These events are also filled in with activities such as game evenings, workshops, tournaments and film evenings, which function purely as an instrument to make it easier for people to start a conversation and to promote fun. When Covid-19 is fully under control and the government gives the green light, ABC will preferably have big physical events - events such as parties, outings and drinks etc.

1.2 ESTABLISHING ABC IN AMSTERDAM

Amsterdam has had an Asian-oriented student association in the past: Asian Students Netherlands (ASN). It originated in 2003 and eventually grew out of higher education. Unfortunately, this means that nowadays there is no more information about ASN, as well as the link with the universities or colleges of higher education in Amsterdam. We want to change this by permanently nesting our association in Amsterdam. We want to be an association not only for the current interested students, but also for all future students. To do that, we need to build a name, be remembered, and be a platform where students will create memorable memories and form wonderful friendships. In order to further stimulate its survival, we also want to enter into partnerships with other student associations in and around Amsterdam. In concrete terms, we must be recognized by Amsterdam higher education and be affiliated with the Amsterdam Chamber of Associations (AKvV).

1.3 CREATING A LIGHT-HEARTED, ACCESSIBLE AND INFORMAL ASSOCIATION CULTURE WITH AN ADEQUATE BOARD

We know how difficult it can be to get to know new people and that the threshold can sometimes feel high. We therefore want to create a culture and atmosphere within our association that is light-hearted, accessible and informal – which will lead to people feeling less pressure to attend an event, get to know people and ultimately make friends. In concrete terms, we want to achieve this culture by means of informal and light communication from the entire organization towards the members. To this end, the board should merely act as an instrument with which connection among the members is achieved. The board will have to feel as accessible as possible to the members – the members need to understand that the board exists to connect people and does not exist so that students can be board members. To this end, each board member must prioritize member satisfaction.

Considering that the association – at the end of December 2021 – has about 700 registered general members, it remains doable to stay consistently engaged with all the members. If the association is going to grow more, this growth must be accompanied by a strict and formal board; after all, the number of responsibilities per head of management will also increase. This will effectively mean that it will be more difficult, but not impossible for a board member to be actively involved with the members. Because we want to embrace informality and it is an essential core value of ABC, an equilibrium must be reached in which the board formally performs its tasks and – as far as possible – remains involved with the members.

1.4 BRIDGING THE GAP BETWEEN STUDENTS FROM ASIA AND AMSTERDAM

As of January 2021, we have been approached by a strategic partner of Zhejiang University in Europe. This university wants to partner up to promote their bachelor's and master's programs in exchange for annual Study trips. Given that this has been established in principle, we want to enter into more relationships with various Asian universities based on this seal in the future, in order to eventually co-organize a Study trip not only in China, but in various Asian countries. Although we are a social club and note that the partnership with Zhejiang University will carry study/career related elements, we are convinced that the potential added value of this opportunity will be distinctive and unique to Amsterdam student life. These possibilities will mean that, although in combination with the inherent study/career aspects, we - not only in the Netherlands, but also in Asia - can realize cultural and social activities that benefit the interests of both ABC members and international students from Asia.

This goal has not been achieved and shall not be priority anymore, due to our focus on the operations in Amsterdam. We noted that we do not have enough resources to organize such a strip this year to China or any Asian country. Because of this, the agreement with Zhejiang University had been postponed indefinitely.

Instead, it had been agreed that ABC shall host a trip within Europe as pilot.

H2 OBJECTIVES

2.1 EVENTS

To promote social contact among students, we want to do a minimum of two events every month. One social event, organized by the Events committee and one borrel, organized by the Introduction committee. These events will mostly be held on Thursdays. In case physical events are not allowed due to Covid-19, we still want to promote social contact among students through online events. We also make use of an online platform called Discord, where students can chat, stream, video call, study, play games and get to know each other outside of our events.

2.2 FORMAL RECOGNITION

In order to permanently nest the board, ABC will be recognized by an Amsterdam university/university of applied sciences and formally registered in the Chamber of Commerce (KvK). To be formally registered, we have engaged a civil-law notary who will draw up the articles of association and register us with the Chamber of Commerce. After this has been achieved, the AKvV will be contacted so that ABC becomes part of the Amsterdam umbrella body of student associations. We will also have to focus on higher education in Amsterdam and in order to be recognized by them, we have recruited at least 100 paying student numbers from 3 Amsterdam institutions: VU University, the University of Amsterdam and Amsterdam University of Applied Sciences of the academic year 2021/2022. To this end, we must make ourselves known during the introduction week and open days of the VU University, the University of Amsterdam and Amsterdam University of Applied Sciences.

2.3 COLLABORATIONS WITH EXISTING ORGANIZATIONS

We aim to build long-term relationships with existing organizations and to that end work with them from time to time to organize events. Given our purpose and mission, we see opportunities for collaboration with the student associations Chinese Student Association (CSA-EUR) – a cultural student association in Rotterdam, which provides a platform for people interested in Chinese culture – and Erasmus Student Network VU (ESNVU), which provides a platform where international and local students can meet.

2.4 FORMAL AND PROFESSIONAL BOARD

In order to steer growth in the right direction, represent the interests, set up high-quality memorable events and nest ABC in Amsterdam, the board and committees must adopt a formal internal stance. This will be shaped by the organizational structure, the specification of responsibilities, GAM structure and the way in which policy is conducted and decisions are made.

2.5 SET UP COMMITTEES

As the association grows, so does the workload and so we are planning to set up committees. We have already noticed that setting up an association and at the same time organizing high-quality events takes a lot of time. Committees will support the board so that the core board can focus on its own administrative responsibilities. The heads of each committee can choose how many people they need for their committee. We also want to encourage committee members to take more initiative during meetings and events by putting them in charge of certain aspects of the committee. The committees can be set up and broken down by the board.

2.6 SPONSORSHIP AND PARTNERSHIPS

Sponsorship and partnerships are crucial building blocks of ABC. We want to build as many business relationships as possible with catering operators and companies with an affinity with Asian culture in Amsterdam, so that we have a network and can connect our members with them. We also want to work with retailers and service companies, which could realize partnerships that are in line with our goal. The ways of cooperation can take the form of giveaways for everyone and/or a fixed discount from the company on their delivered products/services for the paying members. We aim to forge at least ten partnerships. Due to partnerships, members could come together outside of events to have a drink or dinner with a discount.

2.7 RECOMMENDATION: ONE STANDARD SHARED WORKSPACE TO TRACK PROGRESS OF PROJECTS IN ADDITION TO GOOGLE DRIVE

To work effectively productively and efficiently in an organization with dozens of people, it is essential to embrace a platform where there is standardization and processes.

- At a detailed level, this is shaped, among other things, by how an annual schedule is followed by an operational schedule for the various committees. These overviews should also make the dependencies between committees and obligations clear.
- Furthermore, Processes need to be embraced to make “online meetings” effective.
 1. What is a meeting for?
 2. What do we expect from each other during a meeting?
 3. What existing formats could we use?

To ensure an overview, easily monitor progression, maintain a standard operating procedure for projects, marketing and event elaboration, the program Trello was attempted in vain. In practice, at the policy and board level, all administrative matters were tracked and templates were created for operational matters, for the committees. Ideally, this could have led to a total overview of all activities. Unfortunately, this was not well implemented in the work standards of the board.

Advice: Miro board for meetings

Establish standard processes and coordinate with the board. It is of high importance that the board does this together and safeguards processes so that committee members adopt the working method.

Without clear mutual expectations on the board, it is as well likely that practices will differ drastically. There may, of course, be a degree of difference in the way this will be executed, because committees differ in what they do. However, there must be nevertheless outlines, which are currently lacking.

2.8 RECOMMENDATION: URGING TO APPLY ORGANIZATIONAL BEHAVIOR THEORY

When we started in November 2020 with eight people we were working effectively together and there were no real struggles. But when we had 32 committee members wanting to help us achieve our collective goals, the organizational approach had to be most certainly different. We did not really think about the challenges leading five committees and guiding 32 committee members. We had to shift from operations, to strategy planning with policies GAM's, annual reports and guiding and leading committee members.

Leading a committee is fundamentally different compared to executing operations for an event. Ideally Transformational Leadership – a form of effective leadership – is embraced by all board members, so that they can inspire, motivate, guide and get the most out of committee members to achieve our collective goals.

Meetings where not all voices are heard and hive mentality takes are just two of the many challenges we have encountered so far. The communicative and organizational dynamics dictate the ambiance and effectiveness of the organization, which is why it very important for leaders to intervene and avoid psychological hindrances which could harm the organization its ability to deliver its qualities: memorable experiences. Many of the organizational difficulties we have experienced are textbook examples. These pitfalls can be avoided and addressed through scientific theories and approaches. Groupthink, Confirmation biases and Us vs Them and Group Polarization are a couple of examples that we have experienced in practice.

Effective idea creation and solutions seems to be challenging as well in a group. Brainstorming openly in a group is not recommended, because some people simply are more vocal than others. Subsequently not all voices are heard, which could therefore mean great solutions and ideas could go unnoticed. Brainstorming in a group could nonetheless work, if everyone given some time to think about a solution after which everyone is given speaking time. This however, does require that the chair of the meeting has to strictly moderate the dynamics of the meeting. A more effective approach to unlocking one's creativity is by obliging everyone to prepare an idea/solution prior to the meeting. At the meeting everyone is granted equal speaking time after which they discuss the presented ideas and a vote takes place. This approach does require more meeting preparations and requires that the leader of a committee to have the challenges/problems set forth timely.

2.9 RECOMMENDATION: SEPERATING/COMBINING WORK AND PRIVATE LIFE | FRIENDSHIP BETWEEN BOARD & COMMITTEE MEMBERS AND THE RESULTING COMMUNICATION CHALLENGES.

As a person on the board, it is likely that you form or already have friendships with some committee members. The relationship and the resulting dynamic can be experienced as a difficult and gray area; when do you act as a board member and when as the person behind that title, how do you combine this and how do you ensure a pleasant atmosphere at times of difficulties. Although how these relationships are shaped are each unique, there are nevertheless main lines that could be adhered to prevent conflicting interests or slippage. While these are often unwritten rules, we want to emphasize that unintentional mistakes can easily be made here which can have disastrous consequences.

It is often said to keep work and private life separate, but it is never made concrete how and to what extent. Often people say: don't make a fuss and just separate work and private life, but in ABC it is not one or the other. It is rather a combination or a middle way and this middle way is difficult to achieve, but with careful consideration, it can be. Thus, to ensure the warm feeling, sociability, and approachability of the board in an association like ABC, it is inevitable that friendships will form on a vertical level. The moment friendships are formed, a challenging dynamic already arises because you treat your friends differently. At the same time, you also create expectations about the obligations they carry. So when it comes to business, these expectations should be made very explicit and unambiguous. In practice, these expectations should be clear between parties. It can't hurt if more is communicated about this relation between board members and committee members.

3.0 RECOMMENDATION: ACTIVE MEMBERS NEED TO FEEL MORE LIKE ONE

Currently, there is a demonstrable difference in the extent to which committees do activities with each other. There was an assumption that everyone always had to be present before a committee would hang out with others. This approach has very low flexibility, making it difficult to plan things, which led to some committees not having the optimal synergy with each other, this was reflected in their performance. This was already noted and corrected during the semester but is hereby concretized. Additional measures are that committees can also do things with each other and chill. This does not have to be in cubicles or groups, it is also important to ensure a positive atmosphere that hangs in the group. So as a board you need to be adaptable to get a feel for the vibe of the different committees, capture the similarities in interests and vibes of the different committees and thus be a bridge between other committee members.

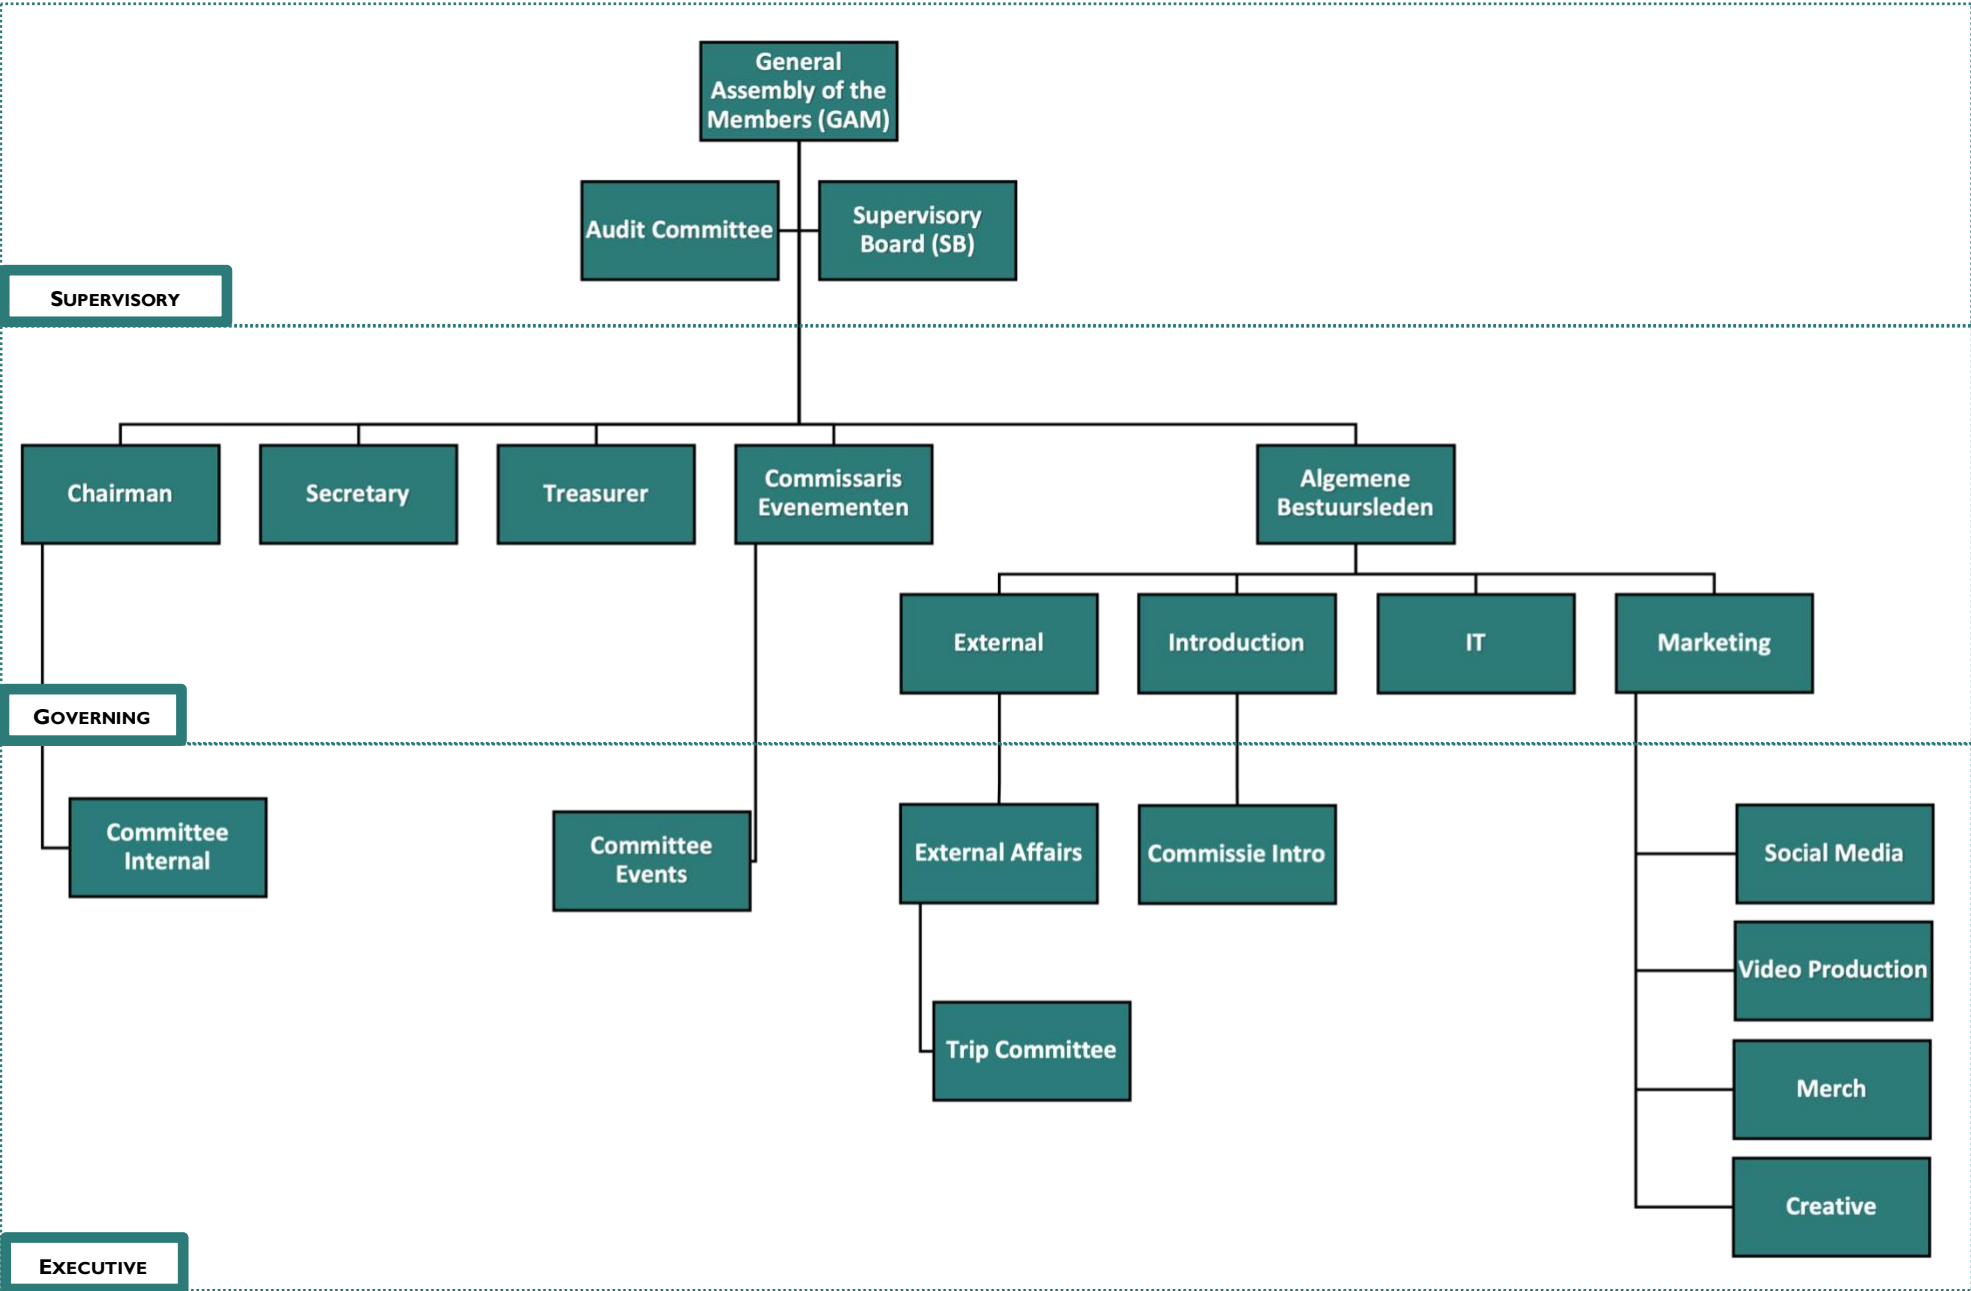

H3 ASSOCIATION STRUCTURE

ABC consists of three different layers: supervisory body, governing body and executive body. By arranging this structure, we aim to realize an optimally functioning board.

- The supervisory body consists of the General Meeting of Members (GAM), the Supervisory Board (SB) and the Audit Committee;
- The governing body consists of the President, who is also the Head of Internal, Secretary, Treasurer, Head of Events, Head of Marketing, Head of External, Head of Introduction and Head of IT. The board meets every week to steer the course in the right direction.
- The executive body consists of committees. Since the board does not have the capacity to take on all tasks and therefore cannot fulfill the tasks to its full potential, committees are needed. If the association believes that a committee should be set up for dismantling, this will be effectuated by the board.

*When changing board positions, the officials must register or deregister with the Chamber of Commerce. *Changes in the organizational structure are made under the GAM.

It is possible that a member of the board or a committee is under performing, misbehaves, expresses himself negatively and/or spoils the atmosphere. It is utterly important that they treat each other respectfully. But should this happen, then this should be revealed transparently. The person in question must always always have the opportunity to declare him/herself. If this does not yield a positive result, it can only arise to expel a person from the association. In the first instances, a conflict will of course preferably be informed and resolved. If this does not yield the result, an official report will be made within the committee of the board. If even then the conflict is not resolved, the member will be removed. A committee member is expelled from the association by the board, provided there is sufficient support in the committee. In the case of a board member, the Supervisory Board is first examined, later an advisory opinion is reached. After this, the incumbent board can, with the consent of the GAM, in accordance with Article 8, paragraph 4, remove the executive board member from his/her position.

3.1 SUPERVISORY BODY

3.1.1 General Assembly of the Members

During the GAM, ABC will present its vision, mission, goals and objectives in a general sense. The GAM is the time for members to share their criticisms and ideas. There will be three GAM's per year: The first GAM will focus on: the annual report and realization of the previous board, the discharge of the previous board, the appointment of the Supervisory Board, the appointment of the Audit Committee and the approval of the policy plan and annual budget. The second GAM will revolve around the half-yearly report and half-yearly realization, where it may also be possible to redistribute a budget surplus. The third GAM will be a nomination meeting. Considering the importance of the GAM, it is important that as many people as possible are present. We want to encourage this by having a drink after the GAM takes place. The GAM therefore has the power: to appoint and remove directors and SB, to discharge directors, to approve the budget and annual accounts, to adjust the policy plan and to exclude members. The course of the general members' meeting is in accordance with the GAM regulations, which are derived from the articles of association. Amendments to the GAM regulations can be made by voting during the GAM and must remain within the framework of the articles of association. Before the GAM, all members will be given the opportunity to have points put on the agenda, after which things will be discussed and/or decided during the GAM. Decisions are implemented by voting.

3.1.2 Supervisory Board

The Supervisory Board (SB) is responsible for providing advice and supervising the association. To this end, the Supervisory Board will monitor the policy square, check whether the board follows the policy and whether the additional activities are properly carried out. In this connection, the board must submit documents to the Supervisory Board, on which the board itself cannot reach a consensus. The SB can intervene at any time where necessary, but the final judgment of the SB is purely advisory. Each year, the Supervisory Board will also issue an advice regarding the new board members – an advice which can be followed or contested by the GAM. The members of the Supervisory Board must be approved during the GAM and no longer have the right to vote during the subsequent GAM. For the second term of the board, the Supervisory Board will consist of alumni of the ACTA and in subsequent years will consist of former board members of the association, who were therefore on the board the previous academic year.

3.1.3 Audit Committee

The audit committee will check the funds within the association. The audit committee will carry out an audit three times a year: at the beginning of the academic year, halfway through the academic year and at the end of the academic year. This means that the treasurer must account for the money flows that have taken place on three occasions. This mainly involves checking whether the incomes and expenditures are recorded correctly and whether they have been carried out in accordance with the agreements made. Before the start of the academic year, the current audit committee must properly inform the treasurer about what he or she can expect in terms of expenses, what needs to be paid extra attention to and within which frameworks the money flows in the association. In addition to a controlling function, the audit committee will also embody an informative function during the GAM. Like the SB, the audit committee must also be approved by the GAM.

3.2 GOVERNING BODY

The second board consists of eight members, of which the core consists of the chairman, secretary and treasurer. The core must keep all administrative tasks in order and strives to steer the association in the right direction to achieve the intended objectives. Furthermore, the other five board members will hold the general board positions – events, external, promotion, IT and marketing – which will be explained later in more detail.

3.3 EXECUTIVE COMMITTEES

3.3.1 Committee Events

This committee takes care of the full implementation of the events. It is important that the events allow students to socialize with each other. This committee will also organize online events if necessary. In addition, the committee will take care of all physical events, with the exception of the drinks and introduction week. Where in the online organization of events often no third party needs to be approached, with certain physical events, on the other hand, third parties will have to be approached and this will mean that the committee members will also start negotiating with them.

At the events committee, a committee member will also be appointed to function as a captain and take the lead. The captain of an event to be organized will be rotated for each event. The captain will be supervised by the events commissioner, who mainly checks whether the organized event is in line with the larger goal and whether the organization is running properly. This committee will consist of eight to ten permanent members and could be supported by the board at various events, who can fulfill various host functions during an event. The reason why the board is involved in the practical tasks of the committee is so that the board can be more involved with visitors and members where possible and in an accessible way.

This committee also takes hold for ABCgaming, a gaming platform where online tournaments will be held for gamers in ABC. The committee will have a total of eight to ten members.

3.3.2 Committee External Affairs

Committee External Affairs is concerned with recruiting partners and safeguarding relationships with them – in particular partners who can add to the membership of paying members. These committee members will proactively search for possible partners and pitch the association's offer to them, as it were. The committee members will therefore enter into multiple negotiations with entrepreneurs in order to: determine the interests of all parties, reach a consensus and draw up contracts from that. The committee also organizes events for alumni members. In concrete terms, this committee ensures: partnership agreements between the association and potential entrepreneurs and guarantees of the relationships that have arisen, the benefits that a membership enjoys and the alumni events. This committee will have a total of three to five members.

3.3.3 Committee Introduction

The introduction committee will make every effort to make new members and aspiring members feel at home. To this end, they will fill in the introduction week for the association and therefore bear the responsibility to make us known at the Amsterdam institutions. The committee will focus on introducing and connecting new and aspiring members – which will be shaped by the drinks to be organized, intro groups and the content of the introduction days. It is estimated that the introduction days carry a certain complexity and that appropriate action must be taken. This committee will have a total of six to eight members.

3.3.4 Committee IT

The IT committee forms the technical backbone of the organization both online and offline. This committee will keep the website up to date, structuring the discord server for as long as necessary. In addition, the committee will also focus on streamlining and optimizing a number of technical processes, e.g. payment system on the website for subscription payments and product sales. This committee will have a total of three to five members.

3.3.5 Committee Marketing

The question to ask is, why would students want to attend our events or be involved with ABC? To answer this question, we need to look at how we create value as an association, which is part of marketing. While the events in themselves reflect value, we should also explicitly reflect that on all possible fronts by promoting engagement among members and followers. In the case of ABC, marketing is about creating and providing entertainment value in exchange for engagement and connection among visitors. Where Events and Introduction take care of all parts at moment supreme, Marketing takes care of the run-up or the weeks prior to these activities in a creative and effective way to acquire as many participants as possible.

Marketing at ABC covers different and diverse fields and is therefore subdivided into four smaller committees as a committee. Marketing is subdivided into: Social Media, Video Production, Merchandise and Creative, each with a small "responsible person". Each sub-responsible is accountable to the Marketing Head. Marketing nevertheless remains formally one committee, so that the marketing committee members can then be informally rotated between the small committees if and where necessary.

The duties of the Marketing Committee are: devising on campaigns for events; visualizing events; creating promotional materials e.g. activity e-mails/videos/posters/aftermovies; designing merchandise; composing a monthly newsletter; capturing photo's/video's at events; editing & uploading pictures of events; and managing all social media channels consisting of Facebook, Instagram, Tiktok and LinkedIn.

Marketing Social Media will mainly deal with managing and uploading content to all social media channels. An additional and important task is that they are end responsible for the content to be uploaded – content such as Instagram/Facebook stories/posts in favor of upcoming events or promotion for partners.

Marketing Video production realizes the film material for the social media channels. In addition to these videos, material is also produced for our partners – which is explained in more detail under the sponsor marketing campaign. Specifically, they will be responsible for filming and editing the videos.

We will also release merchandise. Marketing must find a way together to design and sell products via the website, as well as to partly devise the marketing campaign. In this section we first aim to present a product that is sold in the manner of a hip clothing brand. Strong entrepreneurial influences will apply and be necessary here. While it is likely that members and people who know ABC are more likely to purchase, the idea is that the product should speak for itself—that is, the product and marketing campaign should be attractive enough that even people who ABC do not necessarily know, would consider the product. This attitude to merchandise contrasts with how most associations approach merchandise; often merchandise is something next to it and in some cases only for the members themselves. The product will only be hoodies in the first phases and if this goes according to plan and it turns out that there is a demand for other forms of printable objects with designs from us, it can be considered to offer more. It is important to be able to attach as much value as possible to the products themselves and the way in which they are projected on the social media channels; after all, the product must be able to speak for itself.

Marketing Creative provides Marketing Merchandise & Marketing Social Media with designs and will therefore have to work in close collaboration with them. This team will embrace creatives to design all printable and digital objects – e.g. promotional material (posters, stories, flyers, rollup banners, stretch walls), member cards, business cards, merchandise (clothing, mugs etc.).

There will also be a monthly newsletter, used to communicate with participants of our events. For example, we will put the link to the pictures made at our event. Upcoming events will also be announced in the newsletter so that people that are interested can save the dates.

Marketing will have a total of eight to ten members.

3.3.6 Committee Internal Affairs

The Internal affairs committee will organize fun outings and bonding days for the committee members, so that they can get to know each other better. You can also contact this committee if you have problems within ABC. They will also organize the Actives' weekend. This committee will consist of five members.

3.3.7 Committee Trip

To organize trips abroad, a trip committee has been established. It is a sub committee of External. For now they will primarily focus on trips in Europe as pilots. These trips take on at most 30 participants. Provided the extensive amount of preparation and risk involved in activities like these, it has been recommended that planning starts at least a year ahead. The committee will consist of five members.

H4 BOARD FUNCTIONS

4.1 NEW BOARD MEMBERS

The board term is to be an academic year. Prior to the appointment of a new board, a number of matters must be implemented. After the second GAM has taken place, the Supervisory Board, together with the current board, will start to form the new board. To this end, the incumbent board will actively promote the positions and, if necessary, approach people who they think are suitable for the positions, to persuade them to apply for a board function. The applications are then mainly conducted by the Supervisory Board. After the third GAM has approved the proposal, it is very important that the new board will be properly trained – e.g. by means of white papers.

4.2 THE CHAIRMAN

The Chairman is the face of the association and is therefore ultimately responsible for all actions that the directors perform for ABC. It is therefore important that the attitude of the president does not damage the image of the association. The president of ABC is a person who through his/her personality can radiate the vision, mission and goals in a favorable way to the outside world, has a proactive attitude towards the members, is transparent and honest and most importantly is approachable. The president draws up the agendas of the board meetings and ensures that the meetings run smoothly. The president also determines the strategy of the association together with the entire board. To this end, the president, together with the secretary, will also prepare the ALVs, before the academic year starts, the policy plan will be rewritten and recognition for the board grants will be arranged. The president is equally responsible for ensuring or correcting that all administrative acts performed are for the benefit of the objectives. The president also maintains close contact with the Supervisory Board and raises issues when the Board is unable to resolve the matter itself. Should the SB pass a judgment on the matter, the chairman is obliged to share that judgment among all board members. Finally, the president writes an annual report together with the board, which is presented at the nomination meeting.

4.3 SECRETARY

The secretary takes care of all administrative tasks in the association, including that all incoming, outgoing and internal documentation is neatly stored for a clear and user-friendly archive. In concrete terms, the secretary: takes minutes of all board meetings, provides interviews for committee applicants and takes notes of it, arranges recognition for board grants together with the chairman, maintains a clear membership file, acts as Data Protection Officer in favor of the GDPR and registers/deregisters all officials and UBOs with the Chamber of Commerce. The secretary, in collaboration with the events commissioner, also keeps track of the attendees of an event in order to gain relevant insights. Furthermore, the Secretary must also cooperate with the head of IT, because the system from which the overview of the paying member file follows must ultimately provide as much relevant information as possible. Think, for example, of information such as how many and which events the paying member has visited and whether the person has left valuable feedback.

4.4 TREASURER

The treasurer keeps track of all incoming and outgoing cash flows, monthly and annual statement of income and expenses and the resulting balance sheets in a clear and therefore manageable manner. In addition, the treasurer must draw up an annual budget for the first GAM and to this end, together with the committee heads, must obtain the relevant committee budgets. As indicated, the treasurer must report to the audit committee three times per academic year, by having the committee audit the books. The treasurer must also draw up the financial section of the annual report, in order to establish concretely to what extent the realization has been agreed with the budget and, if necessary, to gain insights from this which could be of benefit to the next board.

4.5 HEAD OF EVENTS

The head of events supervises both the organization in advance and the execution of events. The head of events forms the bridge between the board and the events committee, in order to be able to report straightforwardly about the state of affairs. In addition to supervising events, the head of events also appoints one of the committee members to act as captain at an event to be organized and, together with the committee, devises ideas for events, which are then scheduled by the head of events in the available dates. The events commissioner should also keep track of how events went and provide an insightful evaluation. How events went will mainly be assessed on the basis of feedback surveys, which visitors can always fill in at the end of an event.

4.6 GENERAL BOARD MEMBERS

General board members (GBM) consist of External affairs, Introduction, IT and Marketing. These functions touch on very specific parts of the association, which must be dealt with skillfully. The GBM can assist in situations where it is deemed necessary.

GBM External affairs is responsible for all external relations that have been entered into with the association. There are various relationships, such as: higher education in Amsterdam, local sponsors, international partners and prospective members. Given that sponsors are an important source of income for ABC, GBM External affairs should properly guide and train the committee members externally to, in addition to negotiating and reaching consensus, especially pitch the value of the association to potential partners and let them come to an agreement. formulate. In addition, GBM External affairs also takes care of the contracts between the association and the members or board. In general, GBM External affairs is therefore involved in contacting third parties, seeking and concluding partnership agreements, determining sponsorship packages, facilitating committee interviews, co-organizing marketing with committee or mediating the marketing campaign for the partners and form the bridge between the association and its alumni.

GBM Introduction guides the introduction period where most aspiring members can be recruited. GBM introduction estimates how many members can be recruited at the institutions, which are important for recognition at an institution. To this end, GBM Introduction forms an action plan and planning for each relevant institution. GBM Introduction is also committed to accompanying the regular drinks.

GBM IT deals with the technical backbone of the association, guarantees its stability and translates, as it were, the technical requirements of a conceptual picture of an event into a concrete technically feasible set-up.

GBM Marketing tries to come up with attractive designs and ideas that can be printed. Set up the marketing plan to attract members to the events and sell as much merchandise as possible.

GBM Internal will take the lead in organizing bonding days and the active's weekend and will also try to solve problems in between ABC or their members.

H5 POLICY

ABC is currently an association in formation. The association is not yet recognized at the educational institutions. One of the challenges is, for example, recognition from higher education; where one acknowledgment equals one list with at least 100 paying student numbers from one institution. All boards will be actively involved in recognition and should therefore take concrete steps to at least guarantee recognition or demonstrate significant progress. In addition to the recognition, there are also other key points that require extra attention. The policy described below can therefore be a useful guideline for the next board.

5.1 GENERAL POLICY

ABC is a student association that is based in Amsterdam and committed to being a platform for students and young professionals. One of the most important spearheads is that the involvement and thus interaction among the members must be guaranteed at all times. A lack of interaction among the members equals a failed policy, because the mission is not fulfilled; hardly any interaction or involvement in an association, is not a cozy or warm association. It is therefore also important to adopt a holistic approach, where the association is not a simple sum of its available facets, but rather a combination of facets that radiate synergy for the purpose of the mission. In order to obtain the desired result and the synergy supporting it, it will be necessary to look critically at how existing or new facets influence each other. The starting point should be that ABC is a genuinely warm and cozy association. If certain facets excel, while this does not contribute or is even at the expense of the greater whole or the greater goal that is being pursued, then there is nevertheless a policy that has failed. In short, it is extremely important that the board stands unanimously behind the mission, keeps the bigger picture in mind at all times and aligns with it and acts to fulfill the mission and thus does not blindly maximize the performance of certain parts.

5.2 ACTIVITIES POLICY

With a team of 40 active members, we strive to annually organize 31 activities, ranging from borrels, to parties, to workshops, to gaming events, to sport tournaments, to trips abroad and so on. These are: Foodcrawl in Amsterdam (experiencing culinary greatness from our partners), Mid-Autumn Festival (mooncake workshop), Escape the City (Vossenjacht), Halloween Party (ABC Anniversary), Gala Masquerade ball, Christmas Lunch, ABC Gaming Valorant (online gaming tournaments), Game Night 2.0, Dumpling Day workshop, Speeddating/friending Valentine's Day, Volleyball Tournament, Skitrip, Full Moon Party, Dodgeball Tournament, Theme Park Trip, Extra Sports Tournament, Neon Party, Lasertag, Boat Party, ABC First Borrel (borrelen at a kroeg), ABC Borrel, ABC Intro Borrel (borrelen with intro groups), ABC Sinterklaas Borrel, ABCV New Year's Bingo Borrel, ABC CNY Borrel, ABC Ping Pong & Beer Pong Borrel, ABC Karaoke Borrel, ABC Pubquiz Borrel, ABC Hawaii Borrel, ABC Soju Cantus, ABC Last Borrel.

5.3 ACQUISITION POLICY

We aim for a minimum of 100 paying student numbers of the UvA, VU and/or HvA per year. As we were and are largely in the start-up phase in 2021/2022, we will take every opportunity that higher education offers us to recruit members whenever possible. We expect to be able to recruit 100 paying student numbers from at least one higher education institution in 2021/2022, so that at least one institution recognizes us. Acquisition is also part of the annual budget, which means that a well-founded estimate is made of how much the association expects to be able to recruit and approximately how much contribution this could generate. In order to make membership as attractive as possible for mainly students, the association must be attractive in its offer for its target group. Certainly during the introductory periods of higher education – where the intention is, as it were, to pitch the association, sell it and make clear what the added value is – it is of great importance to have thought carefully about the way in which student numbers can be used most effectively. can be recruited, as well as how students can be persuaded to pay dues. Examples where extra efforts can be made during the introduction periods or open days are, for example, advertisements on social media, flyers, posters and especially word of mouth. Although much focus is placed on recruiting members during the introduction periods and the open days of higher education, it is of course always possible for interested parties to become a member during the academic year.

5.4 COMMITTEE POLICY

The committees and its members are the pillars of the association. It is therefore the intention that the committee members can let their potential shine through and still be given the opportunities to do so. The committee members are the people who realize the bigger picture, while the board only guides that process. The expectation of committee members is also that they actively think about opportunities, possibilities and solutions in favor of the mission. Although we want to make the active members feel like family to each other, it is very important that we criticize each other, so that we can become more and more professional.

It is important that the committee head makes clear to the members where the association is going and what the work of committee members contributes to. It is in line with this that, in principle, committee members are given a lot of freedom, space and responsibility to organize events or to come up with solutions, so that they too know that every input they provide is for the greater purpose of the association. Despite the freedoms, the committee members must at all times be accountable to committee heads who, together with the entire board, are ultimately responsible.

5.5 SOCIAL POLICY

Clear and respectful communication from the association to members and prospective members is crucial. The reporting makes clear what the association does and what it stands for. General communication will take place on the website and social media and in particular via Instagram & Facebook posts/stories and TikTok. The more specific matters and associated details about, for example, events, will be sent by email.

5.6 PRIVACY POLICY

Privacy is a top priority at the association. The association will therefore always comply with privacy legislation by always keeping the privacy statement up-to-date. This means that for all parts where personal data is involved, it must be checked whether the processing of what is done in accordance with privacy legislation. For example, before registration, a member must provide explicit approval to the association before the association is allowed to do anything with the personal data at all.

H6 FINANCE

6.1 BUDGET

Before the first GAM of the academic year, an annual budget must be drawn up. This annual budget includes the budgets of each committee. Before preparing the annual budget, the treasurer works closely with the committee heads to work out and try to reasonably estimate the income and expenses of their committees for the academic year. The manner in which will differ per committee in nature, as well as in the degree of difficulty. Based on the plans of the discussions and the forecasts drawn up by the committee, concrete goals will be drawn up and an outline of how these goals will be achieved. After events and/or have been completed, a realization of projects has been drawn up. The budget must always be approved by the GAM and amendment, albeit a redistribution goes through the GAM.

All monies received – be it from merchandise, donors, donors – will be for the purpose of achieving goals. This also means that no form of profits will be distributed.

6.2 BALANCESHEET

The balance sheet represents a snapshot of the financial health of the association. These snapshots are maintained monthly. To start with, the sum of the assets and liabilities sides is always equal to zero and hence the name balance sheet. On the left side of the balance sheet is the assets, where simply put the assets of the associations are shown. The right side, also called liabilities, shows the origin of the funds. For example, some of the available funds would be from the association itself, which is accounted for as equity or moved to reserves. On the other hand, another part, for example a loan, is administered as loan capital. In addition, if necessary, accruals will also be processed, which go hand in hand with the statement of income and expenditure. These items show to which periods the expenses and income actually relate by recording them as prepaid/paid and still to be received/paid on the balance sheet.

6.3 DEBTORS AND CREDITORS

Before entering the entries of these two parts on the balance sheets, they must be calculated. This is done on the basis of an invoice administration. The invoices are subdivided into creditors (to be paid) and debtors (to be received). It is important that this administration should not contain any errors, because otherwise unexpected invoices have to be paid or income is lost.

6.4 CASHFLOW STATEMENTS

The cashflow statement shows the cash balance in a certain period. ABC uses the indirect method.

6.5 REALIZATION

Before the first GAM of the academic year, a realization must also be drawn up as part of the annual report. This shows what actually happened in terms of income and expenses. The realization will be presented next to the budget. Deviations from the budget are inherent and to be expected, but these must all be justified by the treasurer; after all, the treasurer is accountable to the audit committee and the GAM. In order to prepare the annual realization in an efficient manner, it is desirable to immediately prepare sub-realizations after projects or events.

6.5 BUDGETTING APPROACH

A fundamental change in the budgeting approach is that a profit margin is embraced if possible when organizing activities, with the idea that all profits —as stated in the policy plan — are put back into the association. Profits which the association will use for investments and for the increase in the amount of risk activities can handle, to eventually become more professional and bring the vision even closer. A consistent increase in available funds, equals a consistent increase in the amount of risk we can take when organizing activities provided that we have more buffer. The possibility to take more risk when organizing, means that the organized activities are approached more ambitiously, detailed and remarkably. Subsequently, a more ambitiously approached and organized activity contributes to increasing the value and quality of the platform and as such, makes the activities and experiences more memorable.

To professionalize on all organizational fronts – e.g. systems & equipment and the extent of risk an event can handle whilst pushing boundaries, so that we can create the best experience within our capacity and competences for our General Members and attendees -- increasing the available funds is a necessity. The profit margin will in principle be between 20 and 30 percent, depending on the breakeven ticket price. If the margin reduces the willingness to pay, a lower or even no margin will be used. Conversely, a higher margin could be used and is encouraged, if it turns out that the willingness of visitors to pay barely or does not reduce.

Our FY2021 budget strategy is firstly characterized by a slow increase in funds between September and December 2021, which can be seen as an investment in word of mouth and brand awareness given that people can attend our activities for free or at breakeven price. The second period between January and August 2022 is characterized by a strong increase in funds; from 2022 we assume that people know us better and have more confidence in our abilities, which could mean that they are more willing to pay more for activities.

H7 MEMBERSHIP

7.1 REGISTRATION

To become a member of ABC, an application form must be completed. This form is available on the website. In principle, registering works the same as placing a product in a shopping cart on a webshop. Before they can place the product, the membership, in the shopping cart, they must have completed all mandatory fields of the form. After all that has gone well, they must agree to the general terms and conditions and the house rules and only pay for their product on the website with iDeal. After payment, a confirmation email will be sent and they will be made explicit that they are an official member.

7.2 MEMBERSHIP

After a person has paid, they will be a member for one academic year. Before the membership is about to end, a direct debit will be sent for the following year. Each membership also includes a pass, which is used to enjoy various discounts with our partners. This pass and the associated unique code is also used to allow members to attend an event at a reduced rate or for free. This membership card also gets a new design every year.

5.4 COSTS

To make it as attractive as possible for people to become a member, the contribution will be kept as low as possible and will therefore be €10.00 with €5.00 registration costs. This amount will be settled via the website. There will be no refunds for contribution payments in the event of (early) cancellation.

5.5 MISCONDUCT

If, even after several warnings, a member behaves structurally unreasonably, treats others unfairly and/or ruins the atmosphere, the person concerned will immediately lose his membership and may be banned from activities of the association.

H8 COMMUNICATIE

8.1 SOCIAL MEDIA: INSTAGRAM, FACEBOOK AND TIKTOK

Primary communication about events, partnerships and sales of merchandise takes place via social media. In addition to general communication, as already mentioned, we have a department that realizes film material for events. All this content will also be posted on social media. Promotion about activities always starts two weeks in advance to attract as many visitors as possible.

The Instagram account, with nearly 1,300 unique followers, is generally the most effective in terms of member engagement. On this platform, we update followers daily about events and post a funny video and reminders in stories about upcoming events. In addition to reporting on events, we also post content about and for our partners to ensure that they leave a good impression on their target audience. The sale of the merchandise will also be actively promoted on Instagram through various marketing campaigns and our followers will be offered the opportunity to immediately purchase a product on Instagram itself. Furthermore, we also directly message followers if they have questions or comments.

Only the announcement of events themselves and the accompanying videos are posted on the Facebook account, where you therefore have the option to set yourself on "interested" or "going". Although Facebook has 150 followers, we find that the engagement among these people is insufficient. This means that there is still room for improvement here. Incidentally, when physical events are possible again, it is likely that the photos of the events will be posted on Facebook.

Although TikTok was always in the pipeline, it lacked expertise in that area, so it never really launched properly. As a result, we initially focused mainly on Instagram and Facebook. However, after some questions and comments from visitors at our events about TikTok and the addition of an active member who was also actively involved on TikTok, it was decided to let that active member be in charge of the TikTok platform. After the first post, we were all positively surprised at TikTok's potential reach, which is probably due to its algorithm. Within a week, the TikTok post had more than six times more views than our most viewed Instagram video. With that one post on TikTok, we gained dozens of extra followers on Discord and Instagram and in fact even more people signed up to access the online events. The abrupt reach of so many people and the effectiveness of the algorithm is decisive for us to prioritize this platform as well.

8.2 WEBSITE

It is important to ensure an informative, aesthetic and intuitive website. The website is the place where external relations will look. Think of (potential) partners, prospective members and other student associations. The website also offers them the opportunity to view the documents, including the policy plan, the annual reports, the internal regulations, the privacy statement, etc. The website is indispensable.

8.3 E-MAIL

In addition to communication via social media and the website, e-mail will also be used to deal with more specific matters. Think of information events and/or partners, or contact between (potential) partners and administrators. Communication from a position to an external party therefore only takes place via the email created for that purpose. There is one general email address: info@asianborrelclub.nl, which is managed by all board members.

ABC currently has ten additional email addresses:

- president@asianborrelclub.nl
- secretary@asianborrelclub.nl
- treasurer@asianborrelclub.nl
- IT@asianborrelclub.nl
- external@asianborrelclub.nl
- internal@asianborrelclub.nl
- events@asianborrelclub.nl
- promotion@asianborrelclub.nl
- marketing@asianborrelclub.nl
- merchandise@asianborrelclub.nl

8.4 TELEFOON

Phone contact is usually faster than email, which is why some board positions have a separate phone number where they can be reached. The head of external affairs will in any case have a telephone number, which he/she can provide to (potential) partners.

H9 PARTNERS AND SPONSORS

Sponsors and partners are essential to ABC. One of the advantages that a member can enjoy is that they can get discounts at a number of companies. Companies that sponsor giveaways contribute a lot to the exposure we enjoy on social media; people want to win free objects. We have currently managed to organize giveaways with various Asian catering operators. The sponsorship of giveaways will often result in member involvement, but also in attracting new students. We want to build as many business relationships as possible with catering operators in Amsterdam, so that we have a network and can connect our members with them and ABC forms the bridge between these two parties, as it were. In addition to the giveaways, some form of sponsorship in financial resources will also be desirable, in order to reduce the costs for the events, so that students have to pay less.

9.1 FINANCIAL SPONSORS

We prefer to receive financial resources from sponsors. The external affairs committee mainly focuses on raising these funds and, more importantly, maintaining the relationship with the partners. Each agreement is ratified after it has been signed in by a (potential) partner and the head of External affairs.

9.2 COMPENSATION

Companies and organizations will not enter into a partnership without a compensation. That is why we have to offer them something in return, mainly in the form of advertisements. We will offer our (potential) partners choices in sponsor packages. In the basic package, a one-time social media announcement will be made of the closed partnership, the company will be featured on our website, the company logo will be displayed at all ABC events and the opportunity will be given to sell their products/services up to twice. to promote through our social media accounts. In addition, we also have an exclusive package where we provide a total marketing campaign and exclusivity is guaranteed – that is, we are no longer allowed to enter into partnerships with other dim sum restaurants, for example, if the first dim sum restaurant wishes to enter into an exclusive agreement.

REGISTRATION FORM

The registration form will ask specific questions based on the answers. For example, if someone indicates that they do not study, they will not be asked what institution they are at. If this is the case, the respondent is then provided with a list where they can choose from all MBO, HBO and university institutions. If the respondent has selected the HvA, UvA or VU as an institution, he/she is obliged to provide his/her student number. After this form has been completed and the respondent agrees to the general terms and conditions, as well as has become acquainted with the privacy statement, it can be added to the shopping cart and paid for.
